INDICTMENTS FOR FOOD SPECULATORS

New Food Price Inquiry to be on War Basis—Evidence Shows that Big Operators Have Violated Law is Claim.

By Telegram to The Freeman.
Washington, May 17.—The United States is about to undergo a new food price investigation—one on a war basis—in which methods approaching those dictated by the stern necessities of war will be used in a determined effort to extract the element of speculation from the foodstuffs market.

Attorney General Gregory, Assistant Attorney General Todd, George W. Anderson of Boston, and Robert M. Child of Chicago, special investigators of the department of justice, at a conference today outlined plans looking toward the seeking of indictments against men who have been amassing fortunes out of raising prices of food to the detriment of the general public. Mr. Anderson and Mr. Child, who have been in the field gathering data for some months on food combinations, have laid before the department of justice a mass of evidence indicating that manipulators on several of the large exchanges have violated the law.

It is expected that grand jury investigations will be called shortly in Chicago, New York and some other cities to hear new evidence which the department has gathered.

Meantime, the federal trade commission is continuing its inquiry into the economic aspects of the increased cost of food. All evidence gathered by this body which indicates the presence in the market of elements which would tend to cause unnatural rises in food prices will be turned over to the department of justice.

This new investigation, coupled with the creation of new agencies of governing food prices and distribution is counted on to bring relief to the American public. Selection of Herbert C. Hoover as food director and the forthcoming creation of a central purchasing commission to buy supplies in this country for the Allies are expected to operate to put a curb on food speculators.

STRONG TONE IN WALL STREET

By Telegram to The Freeman.

New York, May 17.—The most important feature of the trading at the opening of the stock market today, in the first fifteen minutes, was the manner in which the strong tone which developed yesterday afternoon was maintained. Nearly all of the leading issues were in brisk demand at advancing prices with many stocks established at new high prices for the year. Steel Common moved up 1/2 to 121 with the demand on a large scale and although it receded to 120 1/2, it quickly came back to 121. The Marine issues were influenced by the morning news in regard to the appearance of the American fleet in British waters. The preferred made a gain of 1/2 to 8 1/2 and the common advanced 1/2 to 28 1/2. Atlantic Gulf and West Indies advanced 1/2 to 104 1/2. Minor steel industrial were all active and strong with Midvale advancing 1 1/2 to 59 and Colorado Fuel advancing 1 1/2 to 52. Anaconda was the strongest of the copper group, moving up 1/2 to 79 1/2. Union Pacific advanced 1/2 to 134 1/2 and fractional gains were made in St. Paul and New York Central. At the end of the first fifteen minutes Steel Common sold at 121 1/2. Superior Steel continued its upward movement, making a gain of 2 1/2 points to 48. Industrial Alcohol opened 1/2 down at 125 1/2, and then advanced to 127.

MAKING GOOD IN PROFESSION.

Former Freeman Carrier Boy With Brooklyn Edison Company.

A. G. Gumaer, a former Kingston boy and at one time a carrier for The Freeman, is now an associate editor of the Brooklyn Bulletin, a handsomely printed periodical issued by the Brooklyn Edison Company Section of the National Electric Light Association. On Tuesday evening at the Central Y. M. C. A., Brooklyn, at a meeting of the Company Section, Mr. Gumaer presented a paper on "Lighting and Lightning Protection" which described in detail the company's practice with regard to lightning protection. The article, handsomely illustrated, was reproduced in the current issue of the bulletin and gives much interesting data upon this electrical phenomena and of the methods followed in preventing it from doing damage to electrical equipment.

Mr. Gumaer holds a responsible position as an electrical engineer with the Brooklyn Edison Company and as associate editor conducts several departments in the Bulletin as well. His success in his chosen profession is a source of gratification to his friends in Kingston.

TONIC EFFECT OF AMERICAN FLEET

British Delighted at News of Cooperation From U. S. Navy Flotilla—Shipping Losses Show Decrease During Past Week.

By Telegram to The Freeman.
London, May 17.—The news that an American fleet of torpedo boat destroyers has reached this side and is now actively engaged in the hunt for German submarines has acted with tonic effect upon the British people.

Enthusiastic editorials, praising the prowess of the United States navy, were printed in the newspapers today.

Reports were circulated that a German submarine tried to sink one of the American ships in the "barred zone," but it lacks official confirmation. Another interesting report was that United States men of war took part in the attack upon the German naval base at Zeebrugge last week. This also lacks official confirmation.

The American fleet has been operating in European waters for nearly two weeks, but the fact was not known outside of official circles. In connection with the announcement that American warships are engaged against submarines it was interesting to note that the shipping losses for the past week showed a decrease. Eighteen British merchant ships of more than 1,000 tons were sunk in the previous week. Five vessels of less than 1,000 tons were lost. Altogether 26 ships were destroyed.

IRISH PARLIAMENT IS NOW PROPOSED

Ulster Excluded From That Part of Lloyd-George Plan But Is Included in a National Council—Nationalists to Consider Proposals.

By Telegram to The Freeman.
London, May 17.—Leaders of the Irish Nationalists met today to consider the Irish home rule proposals placed in their hands yesterday by Premier Lloyd-George.

The chief features are these:

1.—Home rule for all of Ireland except six counties of north and east Ulster, the stronghold of the Unionists.

2.—Establishment of an Irish parliament to sit at Dublin.

3.—Formation of a grand council to be composed of representatives from all sections of Ireland, including the Ulster counties.

4.—The home rule question to be considered at the end of five years.

5.—The home rule bill to be given over for consideration by a special committee after passing the second reading stage in parliament.

As an alternative it was suggested by the premier that a general convention of Irishmen be held to consider measures of self-government. The newspapers were conservative in commenting upon the home rule proposals, taking the attitude that the leaders of the people involved should make known their views first.

The Daily News, which has been among the most insistent of the papers demanding a solution of the Irish problem expressed the fear that the proposals of the government were doomed to failure because of the exclusion of Ulster counties.

The belief was expressed that the suggestions of the premier might find more favor among the Unionists than among the Irish Nationalists, because of the exclusion of the six northern counties.

SPEEDERS CAUGHT IN POLICE TRAP

Benjamin Meyers and Joseph Davis Caught Driving Their Cars 25 Miles an Hour—Each Enriches City $5—Police to be Commended.

Speeding automobiles on Broadway at 25 or more miles an hour has become so persistent that the police department decided to get busy Wednesday afternoon and laid out a speed trap which resulted in two speeders being caught in it. The speeders were Benjamin Meyers, a young man, and Joseph Davis, of the cloak manufacturing company on Upper Broadway, and both were driving their cars at 25 miles an hour.

The arrests were made by Officer Shaden. Mr. Meyers when arraigned before Recorder Lang said he did not realize how fast he was going as his speedometer was not working. Mr. Davis said he had not been arrested for speeding before and thought the court should be lenient.

Recorder Lang imposed a fine of $5 each, which was paid by both men.

As the speed trap is in working order it is likely that more speeders will be rounded up less they comply with the traffic ordinance.

James Duffy of Broadway went to Albany on business Wednesday.

Entertainment at West Saugerties.

There will be an entertainment and social in the West Saugerties Church Hall on Tuesday evening, May 29. As prices on food keep advancing we have decided to bring down our usual price of admission to 5 cents to everyone, thinking that this price of admission would permit even those who have large families to enjoy a pleasant evening. All are cordially invited. There will be three dialogues and some comic songs and after the entertainment we will have cake and ice cream for sale. Names of the dialogues and actors will be announced in next week's paper.

Brilliant Electrical Display.

There was considerable excitement at the corner of Broadway and Thomas street Wednesday afternoon when the food wire of the Colonial trolley line dropped in the street causing a very brilliant electrical display. Pedestrians passing along the street at the time were frightened when the rain of sparks began. The damage was quickly repaired.

WOMAN'S EXECUTION SHOWN TO BE FAKE

By Telegram to The Freeman.

St. Francisville, Ill., May 17.—Indefinite rumors, the subject of neighborhood gossip, were responsible for the origin here of a story stating that Mrs. Katrina Couch, wife of Rev. James Couch, had been shot to death in Germany as a spy.

Because the only persons in this vicinity who knew of the affairs of the Couch family live in a rural district 25 miles from this city, it was late yesterday before this information was received that the Rev. Couch was living in Pike County, Okla., and that the story of Mrs. Couch's death was without foundation.

COLONEL WILLING TO ACCEPT OFFER

Governor Whitman's Appointment Would Follow President's Veto of Volunteer Division—Roosevelt Speaks Highly of State Constabulary and Its Chief, Major Chandler.

"In the event that my offer of volunteers for service in France is not accepted at Washington, I will accept Governor Whitman's offer of a commission as major general of volunteers to raise one or more divisions of troops."

This was the statement by Colonel Theodore Roosevelt to newspaper men at the Executive Mansion in Albany Wednesday after a two-hour conference with Governor Whitman on the war situation. The Colonel declared that while his men would be recruited in New York state, they would not of necessity all come from this state.

At the conference were General W. W. Wotherspoon, former chief of staff of the army, now state superintendent of public works; Adjutant General Louis W. Statesbury; Major George F. Chandler, head of the new state constabulary now in progress of formation, and Major Henry Hopkin, acting military secretary to Governor Whitman.

"I don't believe the country, and certainly not even the citizens of New York state, realize how much has been done for preparedness by Governor Whitman and his advisers," said the Colonel. "It is a very notable thing and should be a matter of pride to every New Yorker, so much has been done so quickly."

Praises Major Chandler.

"Aside from military participation here, I have been interested in meeting the new chief of the state constabulary, Major Chandler, and I cannot refrain from saying what an admirable thing it is that New York should have started a state constabulary. And in the appointment of its chief and the handling of affairs right at the outset, it should have been made clearly manifest, as in Pennsylvania, that the state constabulary is managed without reference to politics or anything but merit and service rendered."

Colonel Roosevelt was asked about a story printed in New York yesterday morning that he would not be a "paper" army.

"Let them try me. If they think so," said the Colonel with a war-time grin such as he might have mounted San Juan hill with. "That story was a pure fake. That's it, a pure fake, I said, and I am a stickler for pure English."

Later the Colonel declared the only difficulty he was having was to keep the number of his recruits down sufficiently to get them into one division.

In the State Militia.

After Colonel Roosevelt left town Governor Whitman explained that the state constitution gave him authority to appoint without confirmation by the senate, a major general of the state militia at any time in a war emergency when the legislature was not in session. The governor was careful to emphasize the fact that if the legislature was in session, it would not be in the National Guard, but in the state militia, which is authorized by both federal and state constitutions.

The state constitution provides that the members of the militia consist of "all able-bodied men between the ages of eighteen and forty-five who are residents of the state." It was assumed here that this section could be construed to permit the enlistment of residents from other states who came to New York for the express purpose of serving under the former president and who for that purpose declared themselves residents of New York.

"I think," said the governor, "that the effect of a commission as major general is the very least that New York state could make to a man who formerly, as governor, was commander in chief of the state's military organization, who, as president, commanded the land and naval forces of the country, and who, besides, is a real soldier."

AGED MAN A SUICIDE.

Ill Health Caused Chatman Gosson of Pine Hill to End Life.

Chatman Gosson, an old and highly respected resident of Pine Hill, who had been in ill health for some time and was living with his son, Arthur, near this village, committed suicide by hanging himself in an outside toilet on Monday about noon. He had gone in the toilet a short time previous, and having fastened a rope to one of the rafters, made a slip-knot on the other end, then standing on a box placed his head in the noose and stepped off. The drop was not enough to break his neck but he was strangled to death when discovered by his son, Coroner H. Lee Brethaupt of Phenicia, was summoned and arrived here about 1 o'clock. Mr. Gosson had suffered considerably of late on account of illness. Deceased was about 77 years of age. He is survived by one daughter, Mrs. James Furman of Bloomville, and two sons, Arthur and Thomas Gosson of this village.—Pine Hill Optic.

COMPANY M NEEDS THIRTY MEN; TO FORM NEW UNITS

New Enlistment Period for Duration of War Instead of Six Years—Immediate Action to be Taken for Formation of Depot Company and Home Defense Units.

Action to recruit Company M up to peace strength of 100 men and the organization of a depot company and home defense units will be begun in earnest by Captain Frank L. Meagher and the members of the Defense and Security Committee of the Home Defense Committee. Instructions for the immediate taking up of these objects are now being transmitted to the members of the sub-committee named of which Captain Meagher is chairman. With mobilization orders in prospect and the enlistment period made for "the length of the war" instead of six years, it is believed that there will be a hearty response from young men able and anxious to serve in Company M and from others willing to become members of the home defense bodies.

Placards are being prepared to be posted at the Armory asking young men to recruit in order to fill the ranks of Company M before conscription is in order. Organized efforts to bring in recruits in time for the anticipated mobilization order will be made as the latter order will not wait upon recruiting. It is believed that Camp Whitman will be the divisional camp for the New York state militia.

Instructions Being Sent Out.

Instructions to members of the Committee on Defense and Security call upon each of the members to aid in the work of organizing home defense corps, to assist in organizing depot units and also to assist in selection of camp sites, army and navy recruiting, marine corps and naval militia.

It is a time for action and the plan for the home defense corps is again set forth, the members of these bodies to be citizens from 18 to 44 years. Class A will consist of men from 18 to 45 years and from this class vacancies in Company M will be filled; and class B will consist of men from 45 to 64 and minors from 16 to 18 years, consent of parents or guardians being required for the latter.

These home defense units will be under the control of the governor and may be ordered out for duty by him in response to a call from a sheriff or the mayor of a city.

The oath of allegiance and enrollment is as follows: Home Defense Corps, County of Ulster, State of New York, I, the undersigned, being duly sworn, do depose and say that I reside at—Ulster, State of New York, that I hereby enroll myself as a member of the Home Defense Corps of—Ulster, State of New York, and I do solemnly swear that I will bear true faith and allegiance to the United States of America and to the State of New York; that I will serve them honestly and faithfully against all their enemies whomsoever, and that I will obey the orders of the Governor of the State of New York, and the officers appointed over me, and faithfully perform my duties as a soldier in the Home Defense Corps, according to the laws and regulations governing such military forces of the State of New York, and that my age is—

WALKER VALLEY.

Walker Valley, May 17.—On Friday, May 11, the W. C. T. U. met with Mrs. F. Dickinson, Leader, Mrs. D. C. Jansen, Subject, "Sabbath Observance." It was clearly shown that the Sabbath should be spent in worship and thanksgiving. In Numbers 16 it tells how a man was stoned to death for gathering sticks on the Sabbath. Is it any wonder there are wars and rumors of war and such calamity. The Sabbath seems to be used for most everything rather than worship and doing good.

Miss Mildred Eckert and Edythe Keller sang a very beautiful hymn for Mother's Day.

Samuel Forbes of West New York, N. J. spent the week end with his wife in their new home, which they recently purchased of Benjamin Terwilliger.

STREET GOSSIP ABOUT TOWN

"I wonder who Mayor Canfield will appoint as a commission to decide what saloons shall close?" asked the friend of the street corner politician as they paused to exchange views on the weather.

"The way I understand it the governor has not signed the bill making it a law yet," replied the politician. "But what is the idea?" queried the friend.

"The way I understand it," explained the politician, "the mayor, when the bill becomes a law, is to appoint three taxpayers and this committee shall decide what saloons shall continue in business and what shall close their doors."

"This committee will have some job, won't they?" asked the friend. "I would not be surprised," replied the politician with a grin.

"Getting back to my first question," said the friend, "what men will be named on this committee do you think?"

"That is a question that is causing some speculation," replied the politician, "but personally speaking, I should think that the Kingston Taxpayers' Association should be represented on this commission."

"How about the Municipal League?" queried the friend with a smile.

"They should not be overlooked either," replied the politician. "How do you think the commission will work?" was the next question sprung by the friend.

"That is something no one can answer as yet," replied the politician, "but probably they may pay a personal visit to each saloon in town."

"That will be some hardship," commented the friend.

"Yes," replied the politician. "In case all the commission are members of the water wagon squad."

"Do you suppose the commission will work Sunday?" persisted the friend.

"There would be nothing to stop them," replied the politician, "provided they knew where the back door was located."

"Are any men interested in the liquor business to be on this commission?" asked the friend.

"The way I take it," explained the politician, "no man interested in the trade is to act on the committee, and only disinterested persons are to be chosen."

"Changing the subject," said the friend, "when are they going to take up the military census?"

"Probably some time before Christmas," replied the politician.

"Funny you don't hear any more about it," commented the friend.

"I guess the government is still thinking up the list of questions they want answered," said the politician.

"I thought they were going to take it up early this month though," persisted the friend.

"So did everyone else," retorted the politician, "but so many other things have sprung up since then that maybe the government had forgot about it or thought it had been taken up."

"That sounds more like it," said the friend.

"I know that down in our ward," continued the politician, "they have made every arrangement to take up the census, but as yet still waiting for the blanks to be received from the state to go ahead."

"In our ward they are all ready too," said the friend.

"But if they wait much longer in our ward," continued the politician, "the young folks selected to do the work will be gray headed."

"How is that?" asked the friend.

"By the natural passing of time," retorted the politician.

"Getting back to the first thing we were discussing," said the friend suddenly, "I remember reading in The Freeman that the city uses nearly two hundred gallons of water a day per resident."

"That's nothing," replied the politician, "for if many saloons are closed up that amount of water will probably be doubled."

"How is that?" asked the friend.

"As a beverage," explained the politician, "for it may be too far for some people to walk to the nearest saloon."

"I never thought of that," said the friend.

"There is one thing I am anxious to see," said the politician, following a pause.

"What is that?" asked the friend.

"The crops raised from some of our home gardens," replied the politician.

"What's the idea?" queried the friend.

"Nothing at all," replied the politician, "but I know some people who have planted a garden who never had a garden before in their life."

"Well, you have to live and learn," said the friend.

"You said something then," replied the politician, "for gardenitis is like anything else, you have to have it before you know what to do with it, and it puts me in mind of what a neighbor said the other day."

"What was that?" asked the friend.

"He said life was one garden after another," replied the politician.

The next day cook the fruit until tender, then set away again overnight; the next day add ten cupsful of sugar and cook until it is thick. Put in glasses and seal when cold. This is a most delicious preserve to serve with toast and tea.

2041—Girls' Under Waist and Drawers.

If mothers will consult their little daughters, they may learn how comfortable and convenient, full and easy fitting undergarments may be. In the style here portrayed, we have endeavored to give ample fullness, without superfluous material. The waist could be fashioned in Jean, flannel, cotton, nainsook, muslin or cambric, and the drawers of drill, linen, lawn, nainsook, muslin or cambric, or cotton flannel. In bloomer style, they are fine for winter wear, and with the ruffles are equally attractive. The pattern is cut in 6 sizes: 2, 4, 6, 8, 10 and 12 years. It requires 1 yard of 36-inch material for the waist, and 1 1/2 yard for the drawers, for an 8-year size. Ruffles on drawers will require about 2 1/2 yards of edging, 3 1/2 inches wide.

A pattern of this illustration mailed to any address on receipt of 10 cents in silver or stamps by the Pattern Department, The Freeman, Rondout, N. Y. Be sure to state the size wanted.

THE KITCHEN CABINET

Without virtue and without integrity the finest talents and the most brilliant accomplishments can never gain the respect and confidence of the people of the truly valuable part of mankind. —George Washington.

A FEW COMPANY DISHES.

When company comes or is planned for, we are happy to make extra effort to have something that will be both pleasing to the eye as well as to the palate.

California Salad.—Take half a cupful of sliced ripe olives, four hard-boiled eggs finely chopped, a half cupful of broken walnut meats, two pimientos, all mixed together just before serving. Add any desired salad dressing and serve on lettuce.

Caramel Pudding.—Caramelize three-fourths of a cupful of sugar and dissolve by adding a cupful of boiling water, add a cupful and a quarter of sugar, 1 1/2 tablespoonsful of gelatin softened in cold water, add another cupful of water and mix all the ingredients together until dissolved, pour it boiling hot over four egg whites beaten stiff and mold. Serve with a boiled custard.

Brown Almond Sauce.—Blanch and chop a fourth of a pound of almonds in two tablespoonsful of butter, add two tablespoonsful of flour and salt and pepper to taste, then add a pint of thin cream, pouring it in slowly. Cook until thick, and serve with an omelet.

IS MATE ON AN INTERRED LINER

Albert Terwilliger spent Wednesday evening and this morning in Kingston with his wife and children on West Chestnut street. Mr. Terwilliger is employed by the government at Panama, and is now working as mate on an interred German liner which the government seized when war was declared in Germany. The liner was loaded with a cargo at Panama and sailed to New York from Panama reaching there Wednesday. The crew consists of negroes from the Panama zone who had never been north before and the change in climate made all of them violently ill. The officers in charge of the liner are white men. Mr. Terwilliger has been employed for several years in the Panama zone as captain on a government tug on the Panama canal. He returned to New York today to superintend the unloading of the liner.

HIS BIRTHDAY TODAY.

Charity Commissioner C. G. Fischer Celebrates Event.

Undoubtedly one of the reasons today was an ideal spring day was that it was also the birthday of Charity Commissioner Carl G. Fischer, the genial hotel proprietor on the Strand, whose name is a household word to the traveling public for all that is best in the hotel business. Just how old Mr. Fischer is today is a deep dark secret which his friends tried in vain to probe. Mr. Fischer looks as young today as he did twenty years ago which makes it impossible to guess his age with anything like correctness. During his long career in the hotel business and the years he has spent as a city official he has made a host of friends who united in wishing him many more bright and prosperous birthdays.

Painters Paint Afloat.

The steamer Odell of the Central Hudson line is receiving a coat of white paint, but the Central Hudson line has so much freight to handle that it was found impossible to haul the Odell off the route so it was decided to take the painters along on the voyage up and down the river and have them work while the boat was making her usual trips.

The Million "CIVILIZATION" Dollar Spectacle

Nothing so stupendous ever before created by the brain of man. "Civilization" doesn't suggest it goes. It boldly and thrillingly sets forth in actual pictures the processes of a wonder dramatic imagination.

The man, woman or child who unmoved can sit through this line masterpiece needs a sudden doctor—a slow one will be too late.

KINGSTON, N. Y., MAY 17, 1917

For once society leaders in New York are following rather than being followed. Fifty prominent hostesses announced this week that they would cut their midday meal to two courses and the evening meal to three, but the plain people already have beaten them to it and the fashionables have many leagues to go ere they catch up with the procession headed by the proletariat. Most American homes consider it a fortunate condition when the family board offers a sufficiency of one nourishing course at the noon meal and, where that repast is the main one of the day, any variety of substitutes have already made their appearance on the menu. Many of us find it easy to get along on a little less in the way of rations, but that is not true of the working family where the food problem has been established for some time on bedrock principles. The head of a family earning two dollars a day is up against a problem that no amount of fashionable example can lighten. It may be, though, that elimination of the waste that has been characteristic of American families these many years will affect the demand for foods so that the staples may remain within reach of the humbler workers. For this much, the action of these social leaders who toil not, neither spin, is to be commended.

When so busy a person, (or should we say personage?) as George W. Perkins pauses for a moment, an idea can occasionally lodge amid the convolutions of his gray matter with great possibilities. The "First Fifty," as the outfit of society women referred to above, is styled, announced, a program of teaching, canning and preserving to Long Island housewives. This called forth a comment from Mr. Perkins that "it is time to stop creating new organizations, so that work may be carried out through organizations already existing." For this flash of insight into a situation which for some time has been plain to editorial writers of the most ordinary intelligence, we commend the Honorable George to public attention. If the mania for forming new committees and new organizations does not subside, there won't be anyone left to do the actual work that these busy-bodies (the hyphen is intentional) are so energetically occupied in planning.

After agreeing upon the conscription bill, the Senate and House appear to be again at loggerheads on the subject, recommitting the measure in the lower body because of variations in the pay increase. The original sum was $20 as fixed in the House, the Senate cutting this to $22 and the last draft from the conferees standing at $25 a month as a private's pay. We earnestly trust that the increase will remain as originally fixed. The pay of the privates is a comparatively small thing when ranged against the tremendous figures for maintenance and transportation of an army. As a stimulus to making service attractive, the pay increase will prove worth while and, in addition, will serve to eliminate a host of the relief work being done in behalf of soldiers who would, under the new scale, be able to provide for themselves.

Dutchess County's millionaire colony is having its crops prayed for by the workers, led by an Episcopal minister, but the age of miracles is not to be revived, as generous fertilization and intensive cultivation will be continued as heretofore. It is not likely that these petitions will do any harm, although equally helpful would be a demonstration of faith by works on the part of the officiating clergy. Napoleon's oft quoted remark could be paraphrased to say that Providence is on the side of the most effective fertilization. The workings of Nature are not so great a mystery now as they were to prehistoric man, and the judicious spreading of manure on the land is not far from being a proper equivalent to mere vociferous agitation. Still, as we have said, some good may result. A home gardener informed us the other day that the wealth of advice shot over the fence from passers-by had had a noticeably beneficial effect on vegetation. If this be true, the Government is making a mistake in locating its nitrogen plant in the south. Washington, in the immediate vicinity of the capital, would furnish the ideal site, if there be anything in this theory of atmospheric fertilization through exhalations of advice.

Another indictment against the English sparrow has been returned by the grand jury of home gardeners who have exposed sundry lettuce plants to the mercy of the elements and feathered enemies. How the Legislature in its cat and dog eccentricities came to overlook this danger to peace and backyard welfare is cause for amazement. A proposal to place a bounty on the heads of sparrows would no doubt have brought out a volume of support from bird-lovers as well as from makers of air rifles and other death-dealing weapons popular with juvenile followers of Nimrod, the son of Cush. The sparrow is a nuisance. The fact admits of no argument. His nests are numerous and his progeny innumerable. Our native songbirds, over whose wellbeing there has been so much justified concern exhibited in late years, would be far better off if some way could be devised for the elimination of this imported pest, the quarrelsome and destructive English sparrow.

No Objection.

When Governor Head was in office in New Hampshire, Colonel Barrett, of the governor's staff, died and there was an unseemly scramble for the office, even while his body was awaiting burial with military honors. One candidate ventured to call upon Governor Head.

"Governor," he asked, "do you think you would have any objections if I were to get into Colonel Barrett's place?"

The answer came promptly. "No, I don't think I should have any objections. If the undertaker is willing."—Tit-Bits.

Dark Doings.

John H. Betts, realty man, 141 East Ocean avenue, gossiping forthcoming election prospects with a curbstone friend: "Which reminds me of the time I ran for mayor of Long Branch. In the course of my campaign a colored gentleman agreed to deliver 150 colored votes. The official count after the election showed I received just 101 votes. Next day I met my colored friend. I told him I knew positively whence came one of those 101 votes, but asked him what became of the 150 colored votes. 'Look-a-reah, Massa Bess,' replied the Ethiopian boss, 'Jess 50 of them niggers double-crossed me.'—Long Beach Press.

So Sensitive.

An attorney was consulted by a woman desirous of bringing action against her husband for a divorce. She related a harrowing tale of the ill treatment she had received at his hands. So impressive was her recital that the lawyer, for a moment, was startled out of his usual professional composure.

"From what you say this man must be a brute of the worst type," he exclaimed.

The applicant for divorce arose and, with severe dignity, announced: "Sir, I shall consult another lawyer. I came here to get advice as to a divorce, not to hear my husband abused!"—Chicago Herald.

The BACKYARD FARMER

By PROF. J. WILLARD BOLTE
(Copyright, Western Newspaper Union)

THE RABBIT HUTCH AND THE RABBIT.

Wild rabbits live in warrens and tame rabbits live in hutches in England. Over here the wild ones live in burrows, and the tame ones in a soap box or a box stall or any other old place the small boy can rig up for them.

Every right-minded boy loves rabbits, especially white ones with red eyes and a nose that wiggles all of the time. Lots and lots of boys never know the pleasure of having some rabbits of their own to care for and play with and gloat over. A white rabbit is worth more to the average boy's happiness than a thousand dollars are to his old dad, and if you want that boy of yours to have all the pleasure that youth should bring to him, get him a pair of rabbits this spring and watch him enjoy them.

Of course, the rabbits may, and probably will, have a hard time of it. They'll go hungry part of the time and if he is not careful a cat or a terrier may get at them, but these things are part of the bunny's life and the bunny ought to be part of the boy's life as well.

Distinctly do I remember my delight over four tiny white baby rabbits that I brought home one day. It took more than moral suasion to prevent me from taking them to bed with me that night, but I was finally induced to house them in an empty stall in the barn. I fenced in the entrance with chicken wire and the tiny white things went through it like quicksilver through a tin horn. They were finally captured and blocked in with some boxes. When I went out to the barn before breakfast the next morning I found a happy looking fox terrier inside the pen with three dead bunnies. I never have cared for fox terriers to this day, but I learned then that rabbits must have a fence on top as well as around them.

A box stall makes a dandy rabbit pen. Lay some boxes on the floor with little doors cut in one end and cover the whole floor with a foot of dry straw, having holes down to the box entrances. Keep their water in a self feeding chicken fountain and tell the boy to give them all they will eat of whole corn and oats once a day. A few cabbage or lettuce leaves, a carrot or two and a handful of clover hay will keep them fat and happy.

They increase like compound interest. I started in with two one spring and sold forty-eight the next spring.

INBAD'S LAST VOYAGE.

Inbad was certainly not much of a success. He wasn't a sailor because he was a chief clerk, and he didn't live in Bagdad because his folks were New Englanders.

Inbad had inherited a hosiery factory from his uncle and he managed to keep it from falling until the "dummed Cleveland tariff" put him out of business. He tried his hand at selling insurance for a while, but he had lost his courage, and an insurance man's whole stock in trade is courage. Finally he got a job as chief clerk in a steamship office in Boston at $75 a month, and he was mighty glad to get it. Time went on and it got to be pretty hard to provide the necessities of life for the patient, colorless little wife and the boys, and one day a friend of his, one of the commission men in the Central Market, suggested the possibilities of making money growing roasting chickens for the winter market.

To make a long story short the next fall found Inbad and the little wife and the boys installed upon a twenty-acre farm south of Boston. The farm belonged to the commission man and he loaned Inbad enough money to live on while getting started.

From the very start they prospered, for the whole family could and did work hard and they all had something to work for. The first year they sold over 1,200 roasting chickens "on the hoof" at an average profit of sixty cents each, and as most of the work of rearing them was done in the fall and winter their summers were free to work that little farm for all it was worth. It gave them their entire living and a few hundred dollars' profit.

Today Inbad rides around in a little motor car and the boys look after the routine work. There is a new house and about $10,000 worth of poultry houses on the place, and his yearly profits are well over $5,000. His chickens are hatched late in the fall, fed for fast growth and are sold alive at eight pounds weight for about fifty cents a pound. The cockerels are all castrated and the pullets are sold just before they commence to lay.

He says the secret of his success consists of good business management and hard work.

"Hatch your pullets early for breeders, so you will get fall eggs."

"Keep away from fussy notions and keep the brooder house warm."

"Move the chicks out of doors to the colony houses as soon as they are feathered, and keep cracked corn before them."

"Sell them while their flesh is still soft. The best roasting fowl is a cross of a light Brahma male and a White Plymouth Rock hen."

THINK!

There is more to be considered than the style and size when it comes to buying a monument. The way it is lettered and set are of almost, if not, of equal importance. The lettering on all monuments sold by us, is done in the most careful manner by a mechanic who is a past master in this branch of work. Every stone is set on a solid concrete foundation.

Mysterious Action Explained When Sleuths Got on the Job.

Recent robberies in this vicinity have made all the local police officials more than ordinarily particular in making investigations of suspicious circumstances, and while the results obtained are not always satisfactory their vigilance will not be relaxed. A case of a fruitless investigation is furnished by the sheriff's office, to one of whose members a story of mystery was told by an uptown resident, who said that just about daybreak that morning his wife, who had been aroused by uneasiness of their baby, had looked out of the window and discerned a strange man in the rear of the adjoining yard. He took from a pile of small rocks there, take out a bag which he handled carefully, then replace the stone and go away with the bag.

Under Sheriff Hornbeck and Jailer Seth Jocelyn decided, in view of the strange action, and the recent robberies, so they hurried to the premises in question and with excited neighbors looking on, they, too, lifted the stone from the pile. They found evidences of a bag having been there—only a small bag, but what it could have contained they could not imagine until they noticed that someone had been digging nearby. Then after a few inquiries they learned that one of the male boarders in the house had gone fishing early that morning, that he had been digging for fish worms and had placed the worms in a bag which he had deposited in the ground scooped out from under the stone.

So far as results went, the investigation was unsatisfactory, but that will not prevent the sheriff's office from continuing its work of prompt investigations.

HIGHLAND.

Highland, May 16.—Woman's Foreign Missionary Society of the M. E. Church were entertained Tuesday afternoon by Mrs. R. H. Decker. There were quite a number present, and we were informed by a member that at the meeting election of officers took place. We did not hear who the officers were. They made plans for some affairs of note and when the social hour took place the hostess served delicious refreshments, which brought the missionary afternoon to a close.

Miss Fannie Bond had as her guest for the week end a lady friend from Kingston.

Alfred Palmer has gone to New Jersey.

Miss Carol Scofield is ill. We hope for her speedy recovery.

Clarence Smedes is now in Poughkeepsie employed in the separator works.

Wednesday night of last week the Daughters of America held their regular meeting. There was a good attendance and a great deal of business was transacted. Among the items of interest we were told was the election of officers. This order is a good one for any one to belong to, for there is in connection with it a sick benefit, also a death benefit, the only order here where one can get anything from it to benefit.

The Queen Esther Circle was entertained by Mrs. Walter Martin Monday evening. All report a pleasant time.

Mrs. Eli Dimsey and Mrs. Frank DuBols of Lloyd were callers on friends in this place recently.

Mrs. Pyle of Maple avenue was a shopper in Poughkeepsie Monday.

Mrs. George Cornell was in Poughkeepsie on Monday.

Miss Adeline Terwilliger was in Poughkeepsie Tuesday on business.

Mr. and Mrs. William Grim of West Park were visitors here last Sunday with relatives. Both of them are looking fine.

Mrs. Gray, Jr. of New York city, has spent a few days on Vineyard avenue in her summer home here.

Miss Elizabeth Decker, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Uriah Decker, was operated on at Vassar Hospital, Poughkeepsie, last week and glad to report she is improving as fast as can be expected. All friends hope and expect to see her home soon.

At the services Sunday evening at the Methodist Episcopal Church, the Epworth League celebrated the 25th anniversary. A grand meeting it was. Reports were encouraging and everything points to years of good work. There is a large membership and we trust now, under the new president, Principal E. A. Marsh, there will be more enthusiasm than before and everyone ready to stand by him and observe the motto, "Look Up and Lift Up."

Mrs. Mary Ellen Townsend, Warren Harbrough, Mr. and Mrs. William Bragg were in Poughkeepsie on Sunday.

Daniel Kurtz and J. W. Feeter were in Newburgh Sunday at St. Luke's Hospital calling on Mrs. Feeter, who is improving splendidly following an operation. She is sitting up and is very cheerful and glad to see her friends. She expects to come home soon.

The P. E. O. Society met with Mrs. Howard Wilcox Thursday afternoon. There were a number of members present, a good deal of business transacted and a pleasant, also profitable afternoon was spent.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Miller had week end guests from Kingston.

Mrs. Maude Adams is spending a week at her home at New London, Conn.

There was a very unwelcome guest in this place last Friday. He came very early and called at different places and was not expected until next fall, but upon making his official visits he decided to stop at Highland, and the families here were not very cordial to Mr. Jack Frost. Still, we hope his cool reception will be a lesson to him and that in the future the warm feelings of his friends may be manifested before he makes any more icy adventures, especially in May.

Christian Endeavor convention of Ulster county will take place in Wallkill next Monday and Tuesday, May 21-22. The Rev. G. H. Scofield of Highland, the county president, will open the sessions. The state president will give the grand address and many items of interest will come up. There is expected to be present large delegations from various places and whoever attends will certainly gain knowledge by their visit.

Mothers' Day was observed in M. E. and Presbyterian Churches here on Sunday and services were very impressive throughout the day.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Dunsberger entertained guests recently from out of town.

Mr. and Mrs. Jere Miller of Poughkeepsie were Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. Myron Terpening on Washington avenue.

There was a jolly lot of people gave Mr. and Mrs. Joel Smedes a genuine surprise party last week on evening, and to say all enjoyed themselves greatly would be just speaking it slowly, for we had one of the best social times you can think of, and Mr. and Mrs. Smedes just made all welcome, and everyone felt that when the opportunity for surprises came around again that they would stop at the Smedes home for a good time. Mrs. Philip Wilklow was hostess for the members of the U. D. Society last Saturday. There was quite a delegation present and several topics discussed and a very fine time in general.

On Friday evening of this week here will be a movie benefit given under the auspices of the Fellowship Club. Let every one turn out and display their loyalty for the order.

The Rev. Eli Quick of Tuxedo Park and a former M. E. pastor here was in town last week. He is looking fine and feeling good. Conference at the time of its session re-appointed him to return to his charge at Tuxedo. That goes to show he is well liked. To remain for several years at the same charge.

Mr. and Mrs. M. Stowe have been entertaining the latter's mother from Middletown recently.

Mr. and Mrs. H. O. Folen, who were residents here for several years and have been living for a short period in Syracuse, have been visiting relatives in this place. Their many friends were delighted to see them. In the near future they expect to leave for San Diego, California. Their home for years was in California before coming here to reside.

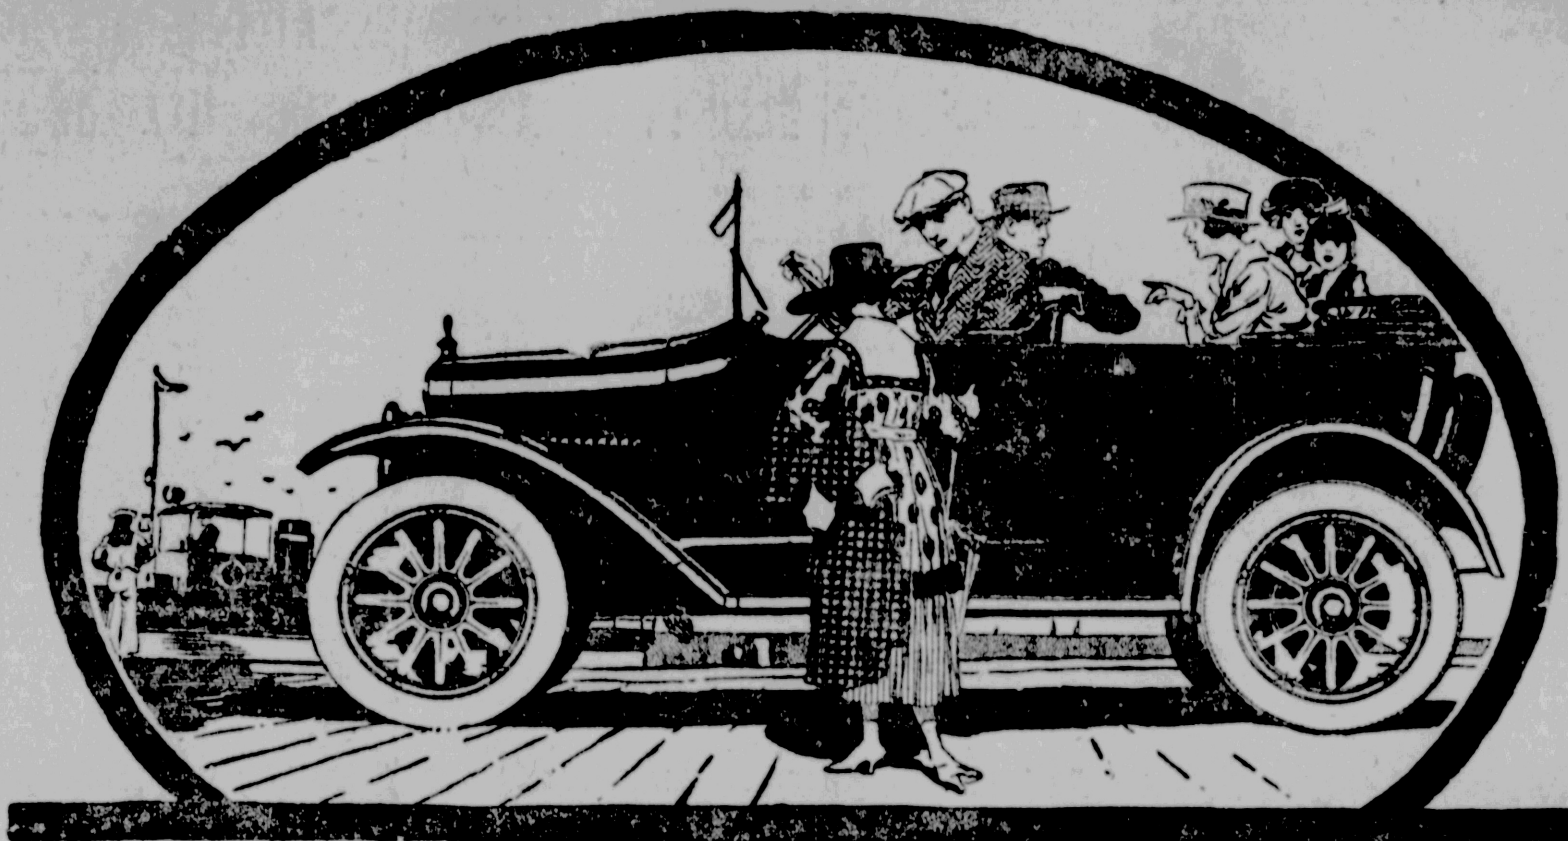

Ford cars seem to be in great demand. Louis Smith has sold a great many. Well, we will say they can go and they leave many of the "big cars" at the foot of the hills.

There was quite a delegation of people from this place motored and went by train to Newburgh last Friday, for all wanted to look upon the French marshal, Joffre, who spent a short time at Washington's headquarters. Newburgh did herself justice and honor for never was there such crowds as on that day to pay homage to the great man of France. Everyone seemed bent on seeing this "Hero of the Marne." Governor Charles S. Whitman gave the introductory address which was fine, and Marshal Joffre responded most fittingly. From Newburgh these great men visited West Point, where they joined in enthusiastic praise of the drills of the cadets. Marshal Joffre expressed his pleasure and admiration at the physical appearance and training of these young men and after seeing them drill he was positive all was true that he had heard concerning the finest military body in the world. We all came home delighted but quite tired, still satisfied at having seen the wonderful man.

Wednesday and Thursday several from this place were in Clintondale attending the two days' session of W. C. T. U. convention. All were delighted with Mrs. F. Graham of Lockport, who is the lecturer. Many of us remember her when here at times and every one always was pleased with her singing. There was a fine attendance, and all reports were encouraging along lines of temperance work. They also had big acts, which all greatly enjoyed.

Miss Emily Martin was a visitor with relatives in Ardonia recently.

The Grange met Tuesday evening. There was a good attendance and discussions were taken up in regard to the school children planting garden seeds. The program was interesting, and all the members present report a pleasant and profitable evening.

Maxwell Owners Wrote This Advertisement

200,000 enthusiastic Maxwell owners in the world. The extracts from letters printed below are typical of what they all say:

Repair Expense 5c

Eight thousand miles—23 1/2 miles to the gallon—cost of tires, repair expense, 5c. I am satisfied.—J. L. Falls, 6206 University Ave., Chicago, Ill.

All Kinds of Power

My car has all kinds of power. We have up to 45 hp. and it is the best I have ever had. I have had no trouble and no expense other than for gas and oil.—A. B. Christensen, Hendricks, Minn.

11,780 Mountain Miles

My Maxwell has gone 11,780 miles wherever the track of any car has been around these mountains. I got 9,000 miles on my tires and about 22 miles to the gallon. No trouble or repairs whatever.—F. C. Headley, Colorado Springs, Colo.

Climbs Any Hill

I run about 22 miles to the gallon. My car never fails to start, has never been in a garage for repairs, and has never failed to climb any hill. I can't say too much for the Maxwell.—H. W. Leacy, Hurley, New Mexico.

16,200 Miles—No Repairs

Have driven my Maxwell car 16,200 miles—average 26 1/2 miles to the gallon. Have not had any repair expense. My car is the best on the market at the price.—Oscar L. Yoder, Chickasha, Okla.

Will Go Where Other Cars Can't

I like the Maxwell because it is roomy and comfortable, easily operated, almost trouble-proof, and because it will go anywhere any car can and some places where others can't.—L. E. Neud, Marshall, Minn.

Economical to Run

My Maxwell is very economical to run. I have gone more than 16,000 miles—average 23 1/2 miles per gallon of gasoline.—George L. Cleaver, Imbler, Ore.

Wonderful Endurance

My Maxwell has wonderful endurance. It can stand any kind of abuse. Besides, it goes better than 20 miles per gallon. My United States tires have given 4,000 miles so far and are good for many more.—George Umberger, La Crosse, Minn.

30 Miles Per Gallon of Gasoline

I have tried a good many light cars and know that the Maxwell is the best all-around car in its class. I have driven it 5,500 miles and get 30 miles to the gallon. No repair expense whatever.—L. A. Sweetman, Providence, Rhode Island.

Plenty of Speed

My Maxwell is a wonderful hill climber, has plenty of speed, is easy to operate and is very substantially built. I have driven it 4,500 miles.—John C. Freshorn, Bloomington, Kansas.

Amazing Power

Averages 27 1/2 miles per gallon, has driven 4,000 miles, and says, "If I were getting a car tomorrow it would be a Maxwell. It has amazing power."—F. B. Gerhard, Coral, Penna.

Perfect Shape After 23,700 Miles

23,700 miles, average 20 miles per gallon. My car has never failed me, no matter where I want to go. If I were buying another car it would surely be a Maxwell.—J. N. Harwood, Portland, Oregon.

Monthly Running Cost, $3

Has driven a Maxwell for 2 years, and says, "My total expense for tires, gasoline, oil, new parts and everything else is $75, an average monthly expense of about $3."—G. W. Baker, Carthage, Missouri.

No Equal for Service

We have driven our Maxwell 6,004 miles on about 21 miles per gallon of gasoline. One trip of 1,816 miles, five passengers, tent, bedding and provisions; crossed the Bluff Pass, Snoqualmie Pass, Mt. Rainier Park, Sunset Mountains and Blue Mountains. We believe that the Maxwell has no equal at anything near its price.—J. M. Surley, La Grande, Oregon.

4,500 Miles on $58.20

In seven months, I have driven 4,500 miles, getting 22 miles to the gallon, total expense $58.20 including gas, oil, tires, etc.—average monthly operating cost $8.31. My driving is over mountains or desert. In my opinion a Maxwell could be driven 8,000 miles without a single item of expense, except gasoline and oil, if given fair attention and operated on fairly good roads.—Fred Williams, El Centro, California.

Drove Up Pike's Peak

My car has run 10,872 miles through mountainous country and I average 19 miles to the gallon. I drove up Pike's Peak highway, over all the scenic drives of Southern Colorado, through Arizona and New Mexico. Never had any engine trouble whatever.—Alfred J. Black, Avondale, Colorado.

These extracts are but a very few of many thousands of letters from Maxwell owners. What the Maxwell has done for these motorists, it will do for you—because the Maxwell is built right—of only the best materials, on sound, sane, time-tried lines of construction.

OUR CLOTHES versus CUSTOM TAILORS'

YES, the custom tailor may be able to give you as good fabrics as we are showing, you may be able to get as good fit too; but of course, the price is going to be twice as much and then you are taking chances on the fit. You see what your suit looks like when you buy it ready made. Slip into it—if it becomes you—take it—if not, try another.

At best, the custom tailor's is a hit or miss proposition; so why pay double the price for uncertainty? Our new spring stocks offer splendid opportunity for scope in your selection and we will guarantee when you leave us, you will have a becoming and satisfactorily fitting suit of clothes.

CONSCRIPTION BILL HELD UP IN SENATE

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

Washington, May 17.—The conference agreement on the conscription bill, accepted yesterday by the House, ran counter to new and unexpected opposition when it was taken up in the Senate this afternoon, and one of the bitterest fights of the session ensued.

Senators McKellar, Hoke Smith, Hardwick, Reed and LaFollette assailed the action of the conferees in omitting from the bill the Senate provision specifically limiting conscription to the period of the war. It was openly charged that it was a part of a scheme on the part of the military authorities to fasten universal service on the country after the close of the war.

Senator Hoke Smith declared the bill should be sent back to conference with instructions that the provision be restored to the measure. Senator Hardwick of Georgia charged the conferees with failing to make a "real fight" for the Senate provision.

WAR TO AID BASEBALL

Would Stimulate Interest in National Sport, Says Foster.

Secretary of New York Giants Agrees With President Barrow That Game Would Not Suffer—Would Affect Seacoast.

John B. Foster, secretary of the New York Giants, agrees with President Barrow of the International League that the game of baseball will not suffer because of war. He believes even that baseball might be stimulated.

"War has never hurt baseball in this country," said Foster. "As a matter of fact, it was the baseball played during the Civil war by the soldiers which resulted in giving the game its great impetus in this country."

"Baseball was highly prosperous during the Spanish-American war. Toronto had an extraordinary good season last year. As a result of the present war in Europe there is more baseball being played in England and France than ever before, and the game has gained a foothold in Italy. The reservists who were called home to the colors took the sport with them when they left this country."

"Baseball games have been played repeatedly close to the actual fighting line. One game at Verdun went seven innings before it was broken up by the appearance of hostile aeroplanes. There is a lot of baseball being played around London, and it is exciting more interest in that vicinity than it ever did before. There are plans to organize a professional league at Monte Carlo as soon as the war is over."

"Only seacoast cities will be much affected by war. In the interior the game will go along pretty much the same. Baseball in New York will not be affected to any extent, for the reason that the game is so popular here."

son that there are always so many visitors to the city, and when they come here they want to be amused.

"The more men are forced to think of serious things the greater is their need for some form of relaxation. I believe that in war times many will be glad to go to the ball grounds in the afternoon, even if it was only to find something to distract their minds. It is probable that everybody will be talking war, but there will be no better place to discuss things than at the baseball parks. From all my experience and my years of connection with the game it is my opinion war or no war, baseball is due to a good year."

JOE RODRIGUEZ IS PRAISED

Little Cuban is Remarkably Agile and Saves Fielders by Brilliant Catches and Pickups.

Joe Rodriguez, the young Cuban first-sacker sent to Rochester for further seasoning, is one of the most sensational fielders McGraw has had on his club in many a day.

The Little Cuban is remarkably agile and saves the fielders from many wild throws by his phenomenal catches and pickups. Rodriguez's hitting is not on a par with his fielding, but all his hits are clean and sharp, as he takes a nice cut at the ball.

Joe was with New London, in the Eastern league, last year, and attracted more attention than any other player on the circuit.

CAN PLAY WITHOUT CAPTAIN

Idea of Field Leader is Joke to Manager Lee Fohl of Cleveland—Will Act Himself.

The Cleveland club will not have a captain this season, Lee Fohl, manager of the club, will act in the dual capacity of captain and manager. "The idea of a captain is a joke to my way of thinking," Fohl explained. "The captain of a ball team has no more power than a manager on the bench providing the manager is in uniform and I'll be out there every day."

Deceased is survived by a wife and five children—William and Roy of Marlborough, George of Bridgeport, Conn.; Mrs. Clarence Salisbury, a missionary in China, and Mrs. Roy of Newark, N. J. Funeral services were conducted by Rev. George Cotton. Interment was made at Cedar Hill.

Funeral arrangements will be announced later. The interment will be in the Union Grove Cemetery near Arena, Delaware county.

William H. Tice, a retired liveryman, died suddenly at his residence, 469 East Twenty-fifth street, Flat bush, Brooklyn, on Sunday. Mr. Tice was well known in the Bedford and Stuyvesant sections, where he had conducted business for many years. He had been a resident of Brooklyn for more than fifty years. He was born in Ulster county, N. Y., and on Saturday side was descended from the early Dutch settlers of New York, and through his mother, Letitia Ryder, from the Coffin family, who settled Nantucket Island. The sturdiness of his father's stock was shown by his twenty-one children, nearly all of whom grew to adult life and eighteen of whom were present at the funeral. William H. Tice is survived by his wife, Ida B. and a son by a former marriage, William H. Tice.

The funeral of Mrs. Leah C. Schutt took place from her late residence, No. 79 Albany street, on Wednesday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock, and was very largely attended. The Rev. F. W. Moot of Ponckhook Union Church, officiated, assisted by Rev. C. G. Ellis of the Rondout Presbyterian Church and the Rev. P. C. Weyant of Trinity M. E. Church. The Rev. Mr. Moot paid a glowing tribute to the life work of the deceased and during the services, Mrs. John B. Osterhout, soprano soloist of the "One Sweetly Solemn Thought," The bearers were Surrogate Walter N. Gill, Commissioner John Tammany, Harmon Goodsell and Dayton Murray. The interment was in the family plot at Wiltwyck cemetery. The funeral arrangements being in charge of Stock and Cordis.

Feeling Your Pulse. Here is one of Thoreau's spring thoughts: "Measure your health by your sympathy with morning and spring. If there is no response in you to the awakening of nature, if the prospect of an early morning walk does not banish sleep, if the warble of the first bluebird does not thrill you, know that the morning and spring of your life is past. Thus may you feel your pulse."

MASTER BAKERS
ENJOY BANQUET

Wednesday evening about fifteen of the master bakers of this city, Saugerties and Port Ewen enjoyed a get-together meeting and banquet at the West Shore Hotel, and Miss Host Pessenar served a bountiful menu. The bakers did not meet to talk business but to enjoy themselves. The principal speaker of the evening was Mr. Morgan of Poughkeepsie, the district manager of the Fleischmanns Yeast Company, who spoke of conditions of the trade as found in the Hudson Valley. Local bakers report that they are not having as much difficulty in getting shipments of supplies as in the past, but prices have not dropped.

In the surrogate's court, Surrogate Gill has granted letters of administration on the estate of John Melville of the town of Wawarsing to William F. Melville of Gleanridge, N. The executor Van Wagener died more than twenty-five years ago, and the executrix Melville died in January of this year. The personal property administered amounts to about $1,000. Raymond G. Cox appeared for the administrator.

Letters of administration with the will annexed on the estate of Elizabeth Melville Lawrence were also issued to William F. The sign is not only a useful guide but very ornamental.

Mysterious Action Explained When
Sleuths Got on the Job.

Recent robberies in this vicinity have made all the local police officials more than ordinarily particular in making investigations of suspicious circumstances, and while the results obtained are not always satisfactory their vigilance will not be relaxed.

A case of a fruitless investigation is furnished by the sheriff's office, to one of whose members a story of mystery was told by an uptown resident, who said that just about daybreak that morning his wife, who had been aroused by uneasiness of their baby, had looked out of the window and discerned a strange man in the rear of the adjoining yard lift a stone from a pile of small rocks there, take out a bag which he handled carefully, then replace the stone and go away with the bag.

Under Sheriff Hornbeck and Jailer Seth Jocelyn decided, in view of the strange action, and the recent robberies, to make an investigation, so they hurried to the premises in question and with excited neighbors looking on, they too, lifted the stone from the pile. They found evidence of a bag having been there—only a small bag, but what it could have contained they could not imagine until they noticed that someone had been digging nearby. Then after a few inquiries they learned that one of the male boarders in the house had gone fishing early that morning, that he had been digging for fish worms and had placed the worms in a bag, which he had deposited in the ground, scooped out from under the stone.

So far as results went, the investigation was unsatisfactory, but that will not prevent the sheriff's office from continuing its work of prompt investigations.

A TRUE BASIS OF HONEST TAXATION

Single Tax on Land Values. Defined by President Brown of Manhattan Organization Before Members of Rotary Club at Luncheon.

Before the Rotary Club at its weekly luncheon at the West Shore Hotel Wednesday noon, James R. Brown, president of the Manhattan Single Tax Club of New York gave an address on the single tax, speaking in part as follows:

"The power to tax is the supreme power of the whole people. It is the power to create, it is the power to destroy. The right use of this great power will make the desert bloom like a garden; the wrong use is to lay waste the garden like a desert. We can encourage industry, help development and stimulate progress, or we can do as we now do, punish thrift, give a premium to idleness, strangle industry, destroy progress and lay waste the natural opportunities of labor and capital. The important thing about taxation is the incidence. Taxes that fall upon labor values restrict production and increase the cost of living. Taxes that fall on land values open up opportunities to labor and capital, raise wages and interest and lower rents.

"Taxation is payment for social service. Honesty in taxation requires the community to charge for what it does for the citizen, but not to charge the citizen for what the citizen does for himself. Our present system of taxation is a fraud and a humbug. Our tax lists are but a collection of guesses from top to bottom and involve the crimes of grand and petty larceny.

"We rob the citizen of his private property when we tax labor products and we rob society of social property when we fail to take for social use all land values. We raise social revenue by taking from every man who can show tangible evidence that he has done something for himself, and at the same time we give millions every year of social value to those who cannot show that they have rendered any service whatever to themselves or to society.

"The only and the true measure of the value of social presence and service to a citizen, is the value of the land of which he has exclusive possession. Land value is the value that attaches to land, irrespective and independent of the improvements thereon and reflects not personal effort and production, but social presence and activity. A large city with modern social utilities, will have much land value. A small village with few and poor social utilities, will have little land value.

"All social activities are reflected at once in increased value of land, not in the increased value of the building or personal property. When, for instance, we change from a low-pressure water system to a high-pressure system, the lots of the town, vacant as well as improved, increase in value because of the change, but the buildings do not. In fact, the tendency would be for the buildings to decrease in value with the falling of insurance rates.

"Labor value is the value of the opportunity to produce. We pay the land-owner for permission to use something he did not make, nor did he create the value attached thereto. It is said that many of the land-owners do not even have a speaking acquaintance with the maker of the land, and when they get land value for private use, they are gathering where others sow.

"A tax upon products increases the cost of living and all such taxes are paid by the ultimate consumer. A tax upon land values tends to make land cheaper, as it will encourage the best use of land now held for speculative purposes.

"When we fail to tax land values fully, we offer a premium to men to hold valuable land idle, thereby artificially boosting the value of land, and raising rent. Failure to tax land values fully has the same effect as taxing labor products. It increases the cost of living.

"Between the upper and the nether millstones of these two follies, the people are ground down to starvation point. Producing as we do through our foolish and wicked system of taxation a perfect epidemic of land speculation, we cause withdrawal from use of very large areas of valuable land, thereby reducing the opportunities for the employment of labor and capital and producing the industrial calamity known as hard times.

"Artificial boosting of land values through speculation is the shutting of the gates of opportunity on labor and capital.

"The curse of the race is the vacant lot industry; it spreads our cities unnecessarily over a vast area, making the cost of government artificially high, and reducing the social service to the lowest point of efficiency. Vacant lots contribute nothing to any legitimate business, they buy no furniture, no groceries, clothing, nor any labor product; they but afford owners an opportunity to get some easy money, in other words, to get something for nothing.

"To tax labor values or products, is to drive away capital and to discourage industry, besides increasing the cost of living.

"Kingston every year punishes industry by a fine or tax amounting to about $350,000 and then to add to the sum of its follies, it gives to land-owners as a reward for idleness, in the form of land values, public property to the extent of about $700,000. This enormous premium on idleness, results in the boosting of land values beyond the ability of labor and capital to pay the tribute. Kingston requires about $300,000 this year for all purposes. Your land area is 5,248 acres and allowing for streets, there are therefore, about 62,978 lots, 25x100. An average tax of $8.00 per lot would yield $503,808. And this without taking one cent of private property, nor adding one cent to the cost of living. This tax would grade in apportionment between your dearest lot said to be worth $4,000—your more—your cheapest lot worth about $50 or, if you were to abolish all taxes on improvements and personal property and levy a 5 per cent tax upon your land values, the dear lot would pay $200, improved or unimproved, and the cheapest lot would pay $2.00, improved or unimproved. Users of land would benefit, non-users would have to become workers and producers.

"The single tax is the only tax that does not violate the rights of private property. The only tax that takes public value for public use. The only tax that does not create on the one hand, unjust burdens and on the other hand, privileges.

"Public value for public use, private property for private enjoyment, is the true basis of honest taxation."

PLAIN TALK BY THE MAN WITH THE HOE

(By Edward S. Pilsworth of the Vigilantes.)

When I come in from the morning chores, George was over with a city paper, and George was grouchy. He owns an eighty and two forty's just north of me, and has been having his own troubles in farming it.

"Look here, Dad!" sez he, and slaps the paper down and jabs his finger on to a letter from a subscriber. "Look what this galoot here is writin'! Don't it give you a back-ache?"

I hunted up my specs, and read the letter, and it did.

Here's what the boxhead says toward the beginning: "To anyone who has traveled, the thousands of acres of arable land and lying idle through the country," and so on. Farther down—"The war is likely to be won on the farms of the United States. It is time for the farmers to turn in and do their share by finding food," etc., and so on.

After putting it up to the farmer to save the world in this care free kind of way, I suppose the writer hopped a street car and began to warm his office chair for a few hours, then with the idea that he had done a day's work, went home and helped his wife cuss the high cost of living. Which sure helps till those thousands of acres lie all set out.

Let's look at this thing from a sensible point of view, and see if we can hammer a few facts into the head of this letter writer. First, there's thousands of acres lying idle because there's no one in the country to use them. Get that? Let's put it another way! There's more acres than there are men or women. Last year, 1916, while men are scarce! That's the facts now, and last year, and the year before, and it ain't going to be the fact this summer. No, siree! Things are going to be a heap worse, because a lot of the men who were here last year are going to be in the army when those thousands of acres need work.

If it's up to the farmer to save the country, the country is as good as gone, for the farmer is up against it, like the man the mule kicked. He can't get labor. There's the long and short of it. He's holding up his end, sky high, and he can't do one darned thing more. The city man has got to quit writin' foolish letters and turn to and help, or the high cost is going to go higher and the war is going to be plumb lost and Uncle Sam's ribs are going to show like those of a sick steer.

The only way you can get crops is to plant and cultivate and harvest them, and the bigger crops you want the more you got to plant, which means that you got to have more men to do it, and as every farmer-man, and lots of the women and kids are busy now as the devil and his seven sons, this help has to come from some other place. We need an army of farmers.

If this letter-writin' feller and all the other lads who knock the farmer will come out and dig, those thousands of acres may stand some show of being cultivated, and the high cost come down with a sudden and soul-inspiring thud.

But we need MEN!
How 'bout it, Mr. Cityman?

HIGHLAND.

Highland, May 16.—Woman's Foreign Missionary Society of the M. E. Church were entertained Tuesday afternoon by Mrs. R. H. Decker. There were quite a number present, and we were informed by a member that at the meeting election of officers took place. We did not hear who the officers were. They made plans for some affairs of note and when the social hour took place the hostess served delicious refreshments, which brought the missionary afternoon to a close.

Miss Fannie Bond had as her guest for the week end a lady friend from Kingston.

Alfred Palmer has gone to New Jersey.

Miss Carol Scofield is ill. We hope for her speedy recovery.

Clarence Smodes is now in Poughkeepsie employed in the separator works.

Wednesday night of last week the Daughters of America held their regular meeting. There was a good attendance and a great deal of business was transacted. Among the items of interest we were told was the election of officers. This order is a good one for any one to belong to, for there is in connection with it a sick benefit, also a death benefit, the only order here where one can get anything from it in benefit.

The Queen Esther Circle was entertained by Mrs. Walter Martin Monday evening. All report a pleasant time.

Mrs. Eli Dimes and Mrs. Frank DuPont of Lloyd were callers on friends in this place recently.

Mrs. F. C. Maple avenue was a shopper in Poughkeepsie Monday.

Mrs. George Cornell was in Poughkeepsie on Monday.

Miss Adeline Terwilliger was in Poughkeepsie Tuesday on business.

Mr. and Mrs. William Grim of West Park were visitors here last Sunday with relatives. Both of them are looking fine.

Mrs. Bray, Jr., of New York city, has spent a few days on Vineyard avenue in her summer home here.

Miss Elizabeth Decker, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Utah Decker, was operated on at Vassar Hospital, Poughkeepsie, last week and glad to report she is improving, as fast as can be expected. All friends hope and expect to see her home soon.

At the services Sunday evening at the Methodist Episcopal Church, the Epworth League celebrated the 25th anniversary. A grand meeting it was. Reports were encouraging and everything points to years of good work. There is a large membership and we trust now, under the new president, Principal E. A. Marsh, there will be more enthusiasm than before and everyone ready to stand by him and observe the motto, "Look Up and Lift Up."

Mrs. Mary Ellen Townsend, Warren Haddock, Mr. and Mrs. William Bragg were in Poughkeepsie on Sunday.

Daniel Kurtz and J. W. Feister were in Poughkeepsie on Sunday.

Luke's Hospital calling on Mrs. Feister, who is improving splendidly following an operation. She is sitting up and is very cheerful and glad to see her friends. She expects to come home soon.

The P. E. O. Society met with Mrs. Howard Wilcox Thursday afternoon. There were a number of members present, a good deal of business transacted and a pleasant, also profitable afternoon was spent.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Miller had week end guests from Kingston.

Mrs. Maude Adams is spending a week at her home at New London, Conn.

There was a very unwelcome guest in this place last Friday. He came very early and called at different places and was not expected until next fall, but upon making his official visits he decided to stop at Highland.

and the families here, were not very cordial to Mr. Jack Frost. Still, we hope his cool reception will be a lesson to him and that in the future the warm feelings of his friends may be manifested before he makes any more adventures, especially in May.

Christian Endeavor convention of Ulster county will take place in Wallkill next Monday and Tuesday, May 21-22. The Rev. G. H. Scofield of Highland, the county president, will open the sessions. The state president will give the grand address and many items of interest will come up. There is expected to be present large delegations from various places and whoever attends will certainly gain knowledge by their visit.

Mother's Day was observed in M. E. and Presbyterian Churches here on Sunday and services were very impressive throughout the day.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Duaneberry entertained guests recently from out of town.

Mr. and Mrs. Jere Miller of Poughkeepsie were Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. Myron Terpening on Washington avenue.

There was a jolly lot of people gave Mr. and Mrs. Joel Smodes a genuine surprise party last week one evening, and to say all enjoyed themselves greatly would be just speaking it slowly, for we had one of the best social times you can think of, and Mr. and Mrs. Smodes just made all welcome, and everyone felt that when the opportunity for surprises came around again that they would stop at the Smodes home for a good time.

Mrs. Philip Wilkoff was hostess for the members of the U. D. Society last Saturday. There was quite a delegation present and several topics discussed and a very fine time in general.

On Friday evening of this week here will be a movie benefit given under the auspices of the Fellowship Club. Let every one turn out and display their loyalty for the order.

The Rev. Eli Quirk of Tuxedo Park and a former M. E. pastor here, was in town last week. He is looking fine and feeling good. Conference at the time of its session re-appointed him to return to his charge at Tuxedo. That goes to show he is well liked, to remain for several years at the same charge.

Mr. and Mrs. M. Stowe have been entertaining the latter's mother from Middletown recently.

Mr. and Mrs. H. O. Felen, who were residents here for several years and have been living for a short period in Syracuse, have been visiting relatives in this place. Their many friends were delighted to see them. In the near future they expect to leave for San Diego, California. Their home for years was in California before coming here to reside.

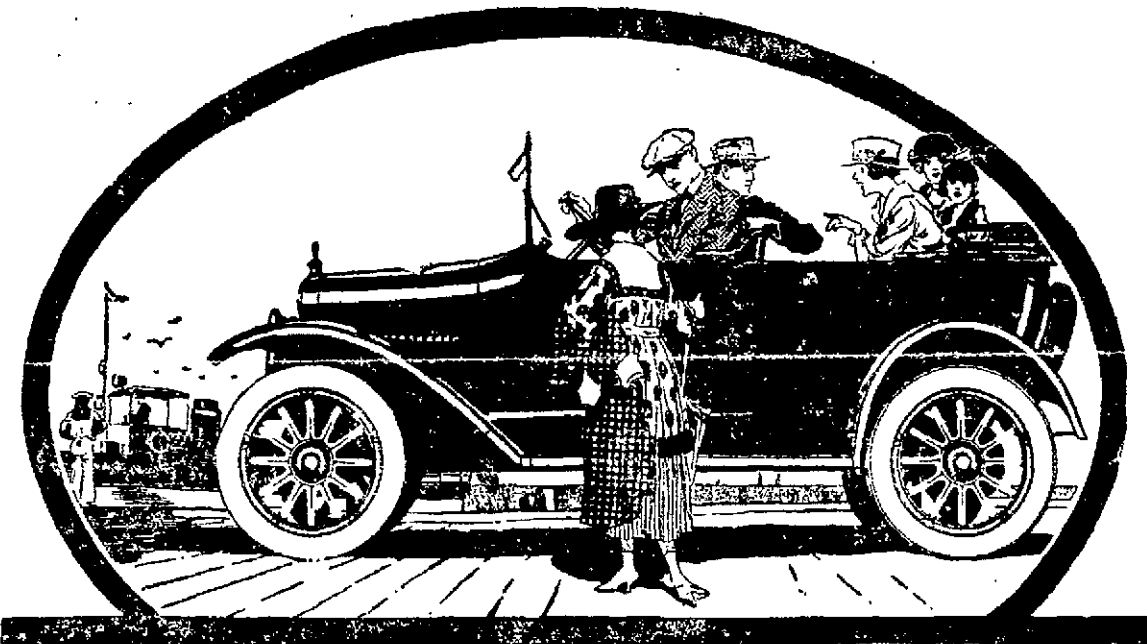

Ford cars seem to be in great demand. Louis Smith has sold a great many. Well, we will say they can go and they leave many of the "big cars" at the foot of the hills.

There was quite a delegation of people from this place motored and went by train to Newburgh last Friday, for all wanted to look upon the French marshal, Joffre, who spent a short time at Washington's headquarters. Newburgh did herself justice and honor for never was there such crowds as on that day to pay homage to the great man of France. Every one seemed bent on seeing this "Hero of the Marne." Governor Charles S. Whitman gave the introductory address which was fine, and Marshal Joffre responded most fittingly. From Newburgh these great men visited West Point, where they joined in enthusiastic praise of the drills of the cadets. Marshal Joffre expressed his pleasure and admiration at the physical appearance and training of these young men and after seeing them drill he was positive all was true that he had heard concerning the finest military body in the world. We all came home delighted but quite tired, still satisfied at having seen the wonderful man.

Wednesday and Thursday several from this place were in Clintonville attending the two days' session of W. C. T. U. convention. All were delighted with Mrs. F. Graham of Lockport, who is the lecturer. Many of us remember her when here at times and every one always was pleased with her singing. There was a fine attendance, and all reports were encouraging along lines of temperance work. They also had big eats, which all greatly enjoyed.

Miss Emily Martin was a visitor with relatives in Ardona recently.

The Grange met Tuesday evening. There was a good attendance and discussion were taken up in regard to the school children planting garden seeds. The program was interesting, and all the members present report a pleasant and profitable evening.

Maxwell Owners Wrote This Advertisement

200,000 enthusiastic Maxwell owners in the world. The extracts from letters printed below are typical of what they all say:

Repair Expense 5c

Eight thousand miles—22 1/2 miles to the gallon—one set of tires. Repair expense, 5c. I am satisfied.—L. Falls, 6208 University Ave., Chicago, Ill.

All Kinds of Power

My car has all kinds of power. We have up to 65 per cent. grades around here and it is seldom I have even to shift gears. I have had no trouble and no expense other than for gas and oil.—A. R. Christensen, Hendricks, Minn.

11,750 Mountain Miles

My Maxwell has gone 11,750 miles wherever the trade of any car has been around these mountains. I got 8,000 miles on my tires and about 22 miles to the gallon. No trouble or repairs whatever.—F. C. Hendley, Colorado Springs, Colo.

Climbs Any Hill

I run about 22 miles to the gallon. My car never fails to start, has never been in a garage for repairs, and has never failed to climb any hill. I can't say too much for the Maxwell.—H. W. Leary, Hurley, New Mexico.

15,200 Miles—No Repairs

Have driven my Maxwell over 15,200 miles—average 25 1/2 miles to the gallon. Have not had any repair expense. My car is the best on the market at the price.—Orser L. Yoder, Chickasha, Okla.

Amazing Power

Averages 27 1/2 miles per gallon, has driven 4,000 miles and says, "If I were getting a car tomorrow it would be a Maxwell." It has amazing power.—F. B. Gerber, Coral, Penna.

Will Go Where Other Cars Can't

I like the Maxwell because it is roomy and comfortable, easily operated, almost trouble-proof, and because it will go anywhere. My car can and does places where others can't.—L. E. Mead, Marshall, Minn.

Economical to Run

My Maxwell is very economical to run. I have gone more than 10,000 miles—average 27 1/2 miles per gallon of gasoline.—George L. Cleaver, Imbler, Ore.

Wonderful Endurance

My Maxwell has wonderful endurance. It can stand any kind of abuse. Besides, it goes better than 20 miles per gallon. My United States tires have given 4,000 miles so far and are good for many more.—George Umberger, La Crescent, Minn.

30 Miles Per Gallon of Gasoline

I have tried a good many light cars and know that the Maxwell is the best all-around car in its class. I have driven it 3,500 miles and get 30 miles to the gallon. No repair expense whatever.—L. A. Swatman, Providence, Rhode Island.

Plenty of Speed

My Maxwell is a wonderful hill climber, has plenty of speed, and is easy to operate and is very substantially built. I have driven it 4,300 miles.—John C. Freshborn, Bloomington, Kansas.

Drove Up Pike's Peak

My car has run 10,872 miles through mountainous country and I average 19 miles to the gallon. I drove up Pike's Peak Highway, over all the scenic drives of Southern Colorado, through Arizona and New Mexico. Never had any engine trouble whatever.—Alfred J. Mink, Avondale, Colorado.

Perfect Shape After 23,700 Miles

23,700 miles, average 20 miles per gallon. My car has never failed me, no matter where I want to go. If I were buying another car it would surely be a Maxwell.—F. N. Harman, Portland, Oregon.

Monthly Running Cost, $3

Has driven a Maxwell for 2 years, and says, "My total expense for tires, gasoline, oil, new parts and everything else is $75, an average monthly expense of about $3."—G. W. Baker, Galtburg, Missouri.

No Equal for Service

We have driven our Maxwell 6,000 miles on about 21 miles per gallon of gasoline. One trip of 1,016 miles, five passengers, tent, bedding and provisions, crossed the Blount Pass, Snoqualmie Pass, Mt. Rainier Park, Sunset Mountains and Blue Mountains. We believe that the Maxwell has no equal at anything near its price.—J. M. Barley, La Grande, Oregon.

4,500 Miles on $58.20

"In seven months, I have driven 4,500 miles, getting 22 miles to the gallon, total expense $58.20 including gas, oil, tires, etc.—average monthly operating cost $9.37. My driving is over mountains or desert. In my opinion a Maxwell could be driven 5,000 miles without a single item of expense, except gasoline and oil. It gives fair attention and operated on fairly good roads."—Fred Williams, El Centro, California.

Drove Up Pike's Peak

My car has run 10,872 miles through mountainous country and I average 19 miles to the gallon. I drove up Pike's Peak Highway, over all the scenic drives of Southern Colorado, through Arizona and New Mexico. Never had any engine trouble whatever.—Alfred J. Mink, Avondale, Colorado.

These extracts are but a very few of many thousands of letters from Maxwell owners. What the Maxwell has done for these motorists, it will do for you —because the Maxwell is built right—of only the best materials, on sound, sane, time-tried lines of construction.

CONSCRIPTION BILL HELD UP IN SENATE

By Telegraph to The Freeman.
Washington May 17.—The conference agreement on the conscription bill accepted yesterday by the House ran counter to new and unexpected opposition when it was taken up in the Senate this afternoon and one of the bitterest fights of the session ensued.
Senators McKellar, Hoke Smith, Hardwick, Reed and La Follette as called the action of the conferees in omitting from the bill the Senate provision specifically limiting conscription to the period of the war. It was openly charged that it was a part of a scheme on the part of the military authorities to fasten universal service on the country after the close of the war.
Senator Hoke Smith declared the bill should be sent back to conference with instructions that the provision be restored to the measure. Senator Hardwick of Georgia charged the conferees with faithfulness to a real fight for the Senate provision.

WAR TO AID BASEBALL

Would Stimulate Interest in National Sport, Says Foster.

Secretary of New York Giants Agrees With President Barrow That Game Would Not Suffer—Would Affect Baseball.

John B. Foster secretary of the New York Giants agrees with President Barrow of the International League that the game of baseball will not suffer because of war. He believes even that baseball might be stimulated.

"War has never hurt baseball in this country," said Foster. "As a matter of fact it was the baseball played during the Civil war by the soldiers which resulted in giving the game its great impetus in this country."

Baseball was highly prosperous during the Spanish American war. There had an extraordinary good season last year. As a result of the present war in Europe there is more baseball being played in England and France than ever before and the game has gained a foothold in Italy. The reservists who were called home to the colors took the sport with them when they left this country.

Baseball games have been played repeatedly close to the actual fighting line. One game at Verdun went on in the face of the appearance of hostile aeroplanes. There is a lot of baseball being played around London and it is exciting more interest in that vicinity than it ever did before. There are plans to organize a professional league at Monte Carlo as soon as the war is over.

Only amateur cities will be much affected by war. In the interior the game will go along pretty much the same. Baseball in New York will not be affected to any extent, for the reason that there are always so many visitors to the city and when they come here they want to be amused.

The more men are forced to think of serious things the greater is their need for some form of relaxation. I believe that in war times men will be glad to go to the ball grounds in the afternoon even if it was only to find something to distract their minds.

It is probable that everybody will be talking war but there will be no better place to discuss things than at the baseball parks. From all my experience and my views of connection with the game it is my opinion war or no war baseball is due to a good war.

Can Play Without Captain
Ideas of Field Leader Is Joke to Manager
ager Lee Fohl of Cleveland—
Will Act Himself

The Cleveland club will not have a captain this season. Lee Fohl, manager of the club, will act in the dual capacity of captain and manager. The idea of a captain is a joke to my way of thinking, Fohl explained. The captain of a ball team has no more power than a manager on the bench. I will be the manager in uniform and I'll be out there every day.
